CURRICULUM VITAE

Last updated March 19, 2025

Pattira Thaithosaeng

Department of Humanities

Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities

Mahidol University

999 Phuttamonthon 4 Road, Salaya,

Nakhon Pathom 73170 Thailand

Pattira.tha@mahidol.edu

Academic Training

2018	Ph.D., East Asian Languages and Civilizations, University of Pennsylvania
	Dissertation Title: "Women During the Han Dynasty through the Lens of Excavated Materials"
	Dissertation Supervisor: Paul Rakita Goldin
	Candidacy exam fields: History of Gender and Sexuality in China (Paul R. Goldin), Han Archaeology (Nancy S. Steinhardt), Excavated Texts (Adam D. Smith)
2016	M.A., East Asian Languages and Civilizations, University of Pennsylvania
2013	B.A., Chinese, Chulalongkorn University (First Class Honors)

Academic Employment

October 2020 – present	Lecturer (tenure-track), Department of Humanities, Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities, Mahidol University
October 2019 – September 2020	Lecturer (tenure-track), Center for China and Globalizing Asia, Faculty of Social Sciences and Humanities, Mahidol University
January – September 2019	Lecturer (tenure-track), Faculty of Liberal Arts, Mahidol University

Publications

2023	Thaithosaeng, Pattira, and Suradej Intagorn. 2023. "The Netherworld, Reincarnation, and Karmic Retribution through the Events of Injustice and Revenge in Sanguozhi Pinghua." Journal of Arts and Thai Studies, 45(2), E121.
2022	Goldin, Paul R. 2022. "The Consciousness of the Dead As a Philosophical Problem in Ancient China." Translated by Pattira Thaithosaeng. Journal of the Philosophy and Religion Society of Thailand 17 (1): 126-171. [Thai translation]
2021	Thaithosaeng, Pattira, and Suradej Intagorn. 2021. "Assessing Scholarly Debates on the Significance of the Deity Xiwangmu in Han Dynasty Tomb Art". Journal of Letters 50 (2):41-65.

Awards, Fellowships, and Grants

2021	Translation Grant, Global Philosophy of Religion Project, Birmingham Centre for Philosophy of Religion
2014-19	Thai Government Scholarship for Graduate Studies

Academic Presentations

March 2020	"Female Criminals and Productive Labor in the Western Han Dynasty," The Society for the Study of Early China Seventh Annual Conference, Harvard University, Cambridge, Massachusetts, USA. (Postponed to August 2020 as an online conference due to COVID-19)
March 2019	"The Role of Women in Men's Biographies in the Sanguo zhi," Early Medieval China Group Conference, Denver, Colorado, USA.
January 2017	"What Do the Zhangjiashan Texts Tell Us about Women in Early Imperial China?" New England Region Association for Asian Studies Annual Conference, Boston College, Boston, Massachusetts, USA.
February 2013	"Adaptations of Peking Opera during the Cultural Revolution in China: Opera scripts in historical context," Arts Undergraduate Humanities Symposium, Faculty of Arts, Chulalongkorn University, Bangkok, Thailand.

Courses Taught

SHHU117 Women and Development

SHHU162 Gender and Development

SHRD629 Research Methodologies for a Study of Religion and Sustainable Development (Historical Methods)

Research Interests

My main area of research is gender and sexuality in East Asian History.

Language Proficiency

Thai (Native)

English (Proficient)

Mandarin Chinese (Proficient)

Classical Chinese (Proficient)

Japanese (Upper-Intermediate, N2)